ODD FELLOWS HERE TOMORROW NIGHT

200 TO 300 EXPECTED TO GATHER IN MARYVILLE

ARE TO GIVE PROGRAM

Rebekahs to Serve Refreshments—To Be Election of Officers for Ensuing Year

Between two and three hundred Odd Fellows of Nodaway County are expected in Maryville tomorrow night to attend the meeting of the Nodaway County I. O. O. F. Association. This association was organized about seven years ago, but was allowed to lapse for some time, and is now regaining its old time strength.

The program for the session tomorrow night will start at 7:30 o'clock at I. O. O. F. Hall. Talks will be made by several members and degree work will be given to a number of candidates. A business session will be held and a feed will be served by the ladies of the Rebekahs.

At the business meeting officers for the ensuing year will be elected. The present officers are: President, Dr. Karl R. Malotte, Maryville; vice president, M. L. Griggs, Barnard; secretary-treasurer, Marion Smith, Maryville and chaplain, the Rev. R. E. Snodgrass of Maryville.

Plans to revise the awarding of the Ben Neidel loving cup will be made. The grand secretary of the St. Louis lodge has a loving cup which is awarded to the lodge having the largest number of resident members attending the county meeting. Under the old organization Wilcox held the cup for a long time and it is still in the possession of Wilcox.

Place for the next meeting will also be decided upon tomorrow night. The date for the next meeting is the third Thursday in January. One meeting of the county association is held every quarter except the summer quarter, which has been abandoned on account of the season being so busy.

JURY GIVES J. P. WILSON VERDICT OF $600

Decision Was Made After Members Had Been Taken to Place to See the "Evidence"

In the Skidmore-Maitland Drainage District case, the jury returned yesterday afternoon from looking over the evidence and brought in a verdict of $600 damages for J. P. Wilson, owner of the old Jester farm. The proposed new channel of the Nodaway River goes through Wilson's farm and cuts off a small strip of his land from the remainder of his farm.

When the case came up in the circuit court yesterday, Judge Dawson ordered the jury to be taken to the scene of the contention and return a verdict from its observation of evidence.

REGULAR WEEKLY ASSEMBLY GIVEN BY FRESHMEN

First Time an Organization of the College Has Given One this Year

The regular weekly assembly at the State Teachers College was given this morning by the freshman class. This assembly is the first to be given by an organization of the school but all of the other classes will give one as will the different clubs and societies.

The first thing on the program this morning was music by the freshman orchestra composed of twelve pieces with Ralph Wilson Eversole at first violin. This orchestra has been organized only a short time but the music was good. Two selections were played.

A pianologue, "Crossing the Bar," was next, given by Miss Evelyn Raines, with Miss Ruth Cline at the piano. Following this Miss Freda Bennett gave a reading.

Next came a piano solo by Miss Ruth Alexander.

The next thing on the program was a reading by Ganard Finley. He was applauded so much that he read another selection.

The last number on the program was another selection by the orchestra.

Two musical numbers by Carlos Yehle and Floyd Lunsford had to be omitted because Lunsford was sick.

BARMANN AUTO COMPANY ANNOUNCED CUT IN FORD

OTHERS MAY FOLLOW

Is Question as to Whether or not Other Concerns will be Able to Follow Ford's Lead

The Barmann Auto Company announced yesterday that there had been a cut of $50 throughout on the price of Ford motor cars and the chasis. With a slight reduction that this will cause in the war tax it will mean that the price to the purchaser will in each case be a little more than $50 less than it was before this last reduction. Following are the prices according to the new list: Runabout, $169; touring, $298; coupe, $530; 2-door sedan, $595; 4-door sedan, $725; truck $280. These prices are all F. O. B. Detroit. Starter is $70 extra and demountable rims are $25 extra.

New York, Oct. 18—Motor cars now are cheaper than they ever have been.

The low figure has been reached by Henry Ford, the master of quanitity production, who has just announced a price cut of $50, bringing his runabout model down to $269, a figure never touched before in the history of motor car manufacturing. Yet, it is understood, he will make clear a profit of $50 a car at this price.

Boosts His Sales

These new prices mean that Ford has come one step nearer his aim of selling a "flivver" to every family in America. His daily output, now 5,300 cars, is expected to go to 6,000 when the full effect of the new reductions is felt. That will mean 1,800,000 motor cars a year, a figure probably unequaled in all industrial history, when the complicated nature of the production is taken into consideration.

Another price cutting war is expected in the motor car industry as a result of Ford's new prices. Other motor car manufacturers have insisted repeatedly they do not compete with Ford, but the fact remains that they have all trailed him in his price cutting and attempted to keep their percentage of reduction somewhere near his. Wall street feels certain that a general price cutting will take place in the motor car industry before the spring season opens—certainly among the low priced makes, such as Chevrolet, Dodge, Maxwell and Overland.

Advantages over Rivals

But the question most asked is how far can the small manfacturers, who do not have a huge organization like Ford, go in the price-cutting war. In trimming his margin of profit to $50 a car, Ford is depending more heavily than ever on his control over the raw materials and transportation facilities essential for his vast manufacturing plants. In these he has advantages which his rivals cannot hope to obtain until they expand several times over.

Reductions made on the various low priced cars from the peak figures of 1919-1920 are: Overland 49 per cent; Ford, 48 per cent; Chevrolet, 36 per cent; Dodge, 31 per cent and Maxwell 23 per cent.

J. M. SLAGLE GETS $2,750 FOR BULL

Sells Beau Blanchard to Phillips Ranch of Denver—Offered $5,000 For Animal 2 Years Ago

J. M. Slagle of near Ravenwood was in Maryville today and reparted the sale of one of his Hereford bulls, Beau Blanchard, 38th for $2,750. The purchase was made by the Phillips Ranch of Denver, Colorado, and Mr. Slagle received a check for the full amount. One breeder said that in his opinion this is the highest cash price paid for Hereford bulls within the last year and a half.

Mr. Slagle said that he was offered $5,000 for this bull two years ago, but he feels that the cash price of $2,750 now is just as good and he has had the use of the bull for the two years. Slagle has been breeding Herefords for the past five years. The last issue of the Hereford Journal contains an article about this sale.

GET 6 YEARS FOR TOWNSEND ROBBERY

WOLLNICK AND HETHERINGTON PLEAD GUILTY

READY TO HAVE TRIAL

Some of the Loot Taken the Night of September 22 Has Been Recovered

Albert C. Woolnick and Arthur Hetherington of St. Joseph, charged with the robbery of the Townsend Wholesale Grocery Company on the evening of September 22, plead guilty this afternoon in the circuit court. Judge Dawson assessed their penalty at six years in the penitentiary. Barney Riley of St. Joseph was attorney for the boys and witnesses were here for the case had it been tried.

Between twenty and twenty-five cases of cigarets and several dozen tins of tobacco were taken from the Townsend warehouse and only six cases of the cigarets were recovered. Woolnick and Hetherington were arrested in St. Joseph a week after the robbery and brought to Maryville.

The court this afternoon granted a change of venue to the Worth County circuit court for the November term in the case of state against Margaret Hewitt for violation of the prohibition law.

REED OFFERS $500 IF SNODGRASS WILL TALK

Senator Wants Pastor to Say to His Face What He Printed in Radio Las Week

"I'll give any man $500 who will get R. E. Snodgrass, pastor of the Christian Church at Maryville, to say to my face what he said about me in his church publication last week," said Senator James A. Reed last night at Stanberry when questioned about the matter.

The article that the senator referred to was carried in the last issue of the publication, which is the organ of the Men's Bible Class of the Christian Church, of which the Rev. Mr. Snodgrass is the teacher.

Following is the exerpt from the story to which Mr. Reed objects so strenuously:

Now that Reed has positively declared himself and so has Brewster, there is but one thing for every self-respecting American in Missouri to do, November 7.

Missouri shall not go backward to wine, wild women, beer and Reed, but will go forward with righteousness, rugged honesty, and Brewster.

Reed has been the champion of the wets for years in this land. He has declared himself for a modification of the Voistead law, which means that he wants light wines and beer. If you are a dry, say so, and vote it that way.

I am against Reed for good reasons 1, I am a Christian. 2, I am an American. 3, I am a dry and 4, I am a Democrat. How anybody that claims to belong to either of these four classes can vote for this, un-American, undemocratic booze champion is beyond me.

AMERICAN LEGION TO USE DIPLOMACY

WILL NOT CRITICIZE HARDING AND SENATE

"ROASTS" ELIMINATED

Resolution Permit National Officers to Push Hard for Enactment of Bonus Legislation

New Orleans, La., Oct. 18—Diplomatic, rather than militant methods in continuing its efforts to secure "adjusted compensation" for ex-service men will be national policy of the American Legion during coming year.

This was decided at a conference today between those high in the legion circles and a resolution was adopted in which all criticism of Harding for vetoing the bonus bill and senate for failing to pass it over Mr. Harding's veto was eliminated.

In its deleted form the resolution did meet with views of the more radical factions in Legion who were insisting that a "roast" of the president and congress was essential to a renewal of the fight.

It was predicted that the resolution which permitted national officers to press hard for the enactment of bonus legislation during coming year will be adopted when presented to convention.

BAKER AND COOK SAY K. C. JOURNAL PRINTS FALSEHOOD

Deny That They Made Statement to Effect That County Is Anti-Reed.

The following was clipped from yesterday's Kansas City Journal in the story of Senator Reed's visit to Nodaway County. It was written by a staff correspondent of the Journal who attended the meeting:

"Dan Baker, Democratic county chairman, admitted today the county machinery had been anti-Reed during the primary and that no enthusiasm has been shown since the defeat of Long. He declared there is a great dissatisfaction here among the Wilson Democrats.

"A much larger number of Democrats will desert Reed than Republicans who will vote for him, because of his liquor stand," Baker asserted.

Ellis Cook, secretary of the Democratic county committee, declared tonight on the eve of the Reed speech, that "if the election were held today or tomorrow, Reed would draw from 1,000 to 1,500 party scratches."

"There will be more Democrats vote against Reed than Republicans who will desert Brewster," Cook declared.

Ellis Cook today denounced the quotation as "an infamous lie." He says "I made no such statement that Reed would draw 1,500 scratches in the county if the election were held tomorrow. Quite to the contrary, I believe Reed will carry the county by a substantial majority."

County Chairman Dan P. Baker likewise branded his interview as false. Both men say that they were not even interviewed by the Journal correspondent, much less making such statements as were credited to them in the paper of Brewster's boss, Walter D. Dickey.

FOR CO-OPERATION IN DEPARTMENTS

PEOPLE DO NOT KNOW OFFICIALS THEY ELECT.

WITH 5 DEPARTMENTS

State Does Not Go Bankrupt Because People Pay More and More Taxes to Support It.

The Democrat-Forum:

Jefferson City, Mo., Oct. 15.—In my last letter to the Forum it was pointed out that the state had a vast number of different offices and officers and that these were unorganized, disconnected and independent. There are a great many able and well informed people who think the officials ought to be independent of each other and that no one ought to be given power over another. That it makes for independence of thought and action and prevents the building up of a political machine. It must be remembered that the State of Missouri is in many of its activities, a great business organization and every official and employee is a part of this great machine and every part must act in harmony with every other part to get the maximum of benefit with the minimum of effort and expense.

If the head of each department of a great department store was independent of the "Big Boss" and ran his department as he pleased without regard to the other departments, it would develop the independence, self reliance and executive ability of each of the department managers, but the business itself would soon be in the hands of a trustee in bankruptcy. The only thing that would prevent a failure would be for the stockholders to keep putting up money. And the only reason that the government of the United States, the State of Missouri and every other state, county, city and other municipal corporation in this broad land is not bankrupt is because the stockholders (the people) keep putting up more and more money in the form of ever increasing taxes. Every candidate for office from the candidate for President down, promises the people in every campaign that he is going to put more business in government. Every one knows, or ought to know, that he is promising the impossible. The whole theory and plan of government is opposed to business system and organization. It would not be best to have the government organized on a strictly business basis. Government is society organized, and of course, there are other aspects of society than those pertaining to business. But most of the administrative departments of the government are engaged in the dispatch of the business affairs of the state and these ought to be organized in a systematic and business like manner. To do this in a logical way would require that the Secretary of State, the Attorney General, the State Auditor and State Treasurer, be a part of the Executive brand of the state government with the Governor as the head. But so long as these officials are made elective, and each independent of the Governor and each other, the executive branch of the state government is bound to remain somewhat disorganized and inharmonious and the best results should not be expected. But tradition and custom were too strong and the old organization was retained in part. The fear was expressed that the people would not give up the right to elect these officials.

In my judgment this is pure buncomb. Why should the people want to elect officials they know nothing about? Ask the well informed men and women you meet and not one in ten can name the Secretary of State, the State Auditor, the State Treasurer and the At-

C-2 REPORT TO BE MADE LATE TODAY

TO SEND IT TO GENERAL MASON M. PATRICK

BLIMP BROKE LOOSE

All Those Injured Are Out of Danger, According to Reports from Ft. Sam Houston Today

San Antonio, Tex., Oct. 18—The board of inquiry appointed today by Major Royce, commanding officer of Brooksfield, to investigate the cause of the burning of the dirigible of C-2 will make a report on its findings early this afternoon, Major Royce announced early today.

This report will be sent from the headquarters of the eighth army corps area to Gen. Mason M. Patrick, chief of the air service.

The board, which was in session this morning, examined a piece of fabric which was pulled loose from the bag when wind caught ship from windward side. It was 3 feet wide and attached to a guy rope.

When piece of fabric pulled out only one guy of rope remained. The strain on this was too great and it snapped, allowing the dirigible to drift leeward. Rapid inflow of air caused the hydrogen to explode, according to Major H. A. Strauss, commander of the huge blimp.

All of the injured of yesterday are out of danger, according to reports of base hospital at Ft. San Houston.

WHY GET MONEY?

There are people in the world, says the Hannibal Courier Post, who believe the most important thing to get is money. The man who cannot fill his heart with love of fellow mortals, may fill his pay envelope or his bank account to overflowing, but he still remains a pitiable bankrupt, a lamentable failure.

There is more in this world worthy of a man than accumulating money. In fact, there is nothing worthy in the accumulation of money unless that money is accumulated for the purpose of alleviating sorrow and pain, for making the world better by its possessor having lived. We are prone to look upon and to respect and honor men because they have money. Having money is commendable if that money is used rightly; otherwise it shows a nature not worth anything to the community in which the person lives. The trouble with American citizens today is that the man with money is oftentimes pushed forward into positions that he is wholly unable by mental attainment and moral fitness to occupy. Money should not be the basis by which a man is judged. Money is a good thing; it is a necessary thing, and the accumulation of it is a good thing if the mind of the accumulator works in the right direction. Many men who possess money have made other people happy; have done all that lay within their power to do, something for the betterment of their fellow men, and such men have been public benefactors. But there are some men who have no noble aspirations who are actuated by no principles of charity and good will, who say "I made my money, why don't they make theirs? I don't see why I should divide with anyone else, what I have accumulated. I can't see that there is any moral obligation resting on me to do something for my fellow-man. If he wants money, let him make it as I did. I am going to keep what I have to enrich my own family. I don't feel that I am under obligations to any one else, save my immediate relatives." Such a man has little or no conception of what real life is and what it means.

We own nothing in this world. We are simply the custodians of what a gracious, generous God has entrusted to our hands. And if we have been more favored than some of our neighbors and friends, a responsibility rests upon us to see that in some measure their lives are made pleasant, and that they have some of the enjoyments which we take as our natural right.

The fellow who knows everything is a very unsafe adviser.

Great Britain complains that she can not police the world. She don't need to worry about the United States. Ireland is attending to that.

It looks like there is no end to hard luck in this administration. President Harding now threatens us with another extra session of Congress.

When you warm certain reptiles to your breast, they will bite you. A good many politicians are built on the same order. All you have to do to lose their friendship is to go out of your way to favor them and they will show their gratitude by throwing their favors in some other direction.

M. P. Lindberg, author of the slogan "Say it with Flowers," is killed in an auto accident in North Dakota. As you suspected, he was a florist. His famous four-word slogan has sold more flowers than any 1,000 florists that ever lived. And the slogan was not carefully thought out. Lindberg coined it offhand, almost absentmindedly, in conversation at a national florists' convention. This is what a gambler calls chance. It is chance, a sudden appearance of the unexpected, that shapes our destiny and makes life interesting. Never get discouraged. Chance probably has something better in store.—Hannibal Courier-Post.

U. S. OIL PRODUCTS EXPORTS FALL OFF

Last Fiscal Year Witnessed Big Decline; Crude Was Only Exception.

Washington, Oct. 18.—The fiscal year ending June 30 saw a marked decline in the export of petroleum products from the United States, according to Department of Commerce experts. Crude petroleum was the only exception, increasing 7 per cent.

Canada was our chief customer for the crude product, taking 304,754,397 gallons during the year. The remainder went chiefly to Germany and Cuba. Exports of crude oil last June were 39 per cent above the figures for June 1921.

Illuminating oil exports in June were somewhat above those for May, 1922, and June, 1921. Lubricating oil exports were nearly 10,800,000 gallons above June, 1921, and 1,100,000 gallons above the May, 1922, figure. Exports of gasoline, light oil products and gas and fuel oil showed declines from the preceding month, though considerably above the figures for June, 1921.

CHICAGO GIRL WANTED TO BE BANDIT; JAILED

Chicago, Oct. 18.—A desire to rival the picturesque characters in ancient and modern fiction who lived by their wits—and occasionally by the assistance of an ugly-looking "gat"—landed pretty twenty-year-old Mildred Stahl in the police net.

"I wanted to be a bandit queen," Miss Stahl admitted to the police, when she was placed under arrest for having participated in the holdup of a taxicab driver.

HIGH COAL MINE WAGE ATTRACTING TEACHERS

Charleston, W. Va., Oct. 18.—High wages paid in the cold mines are drawing men away from the teaching profession throughout the State and the surplus of teachers existing early this year has been converted into a shortage, according to the State Department of Education.

"Crispy an' crunchy an' all-the-time-crackly! An' never tough or leathery! Gee, what would happen if Kellogg's got all cated up before tomorrow!"

You certainly realize the difference in Corn Flakes when you eat Kellogg's

From the instant you open the generous sized package till they're tucked away in great and tiny "bread-baskets," Kellogg's Corn Flakes are a delight! You can't even look at those big sunny-brown flakes, all joyously flavored, crisp and crunchy, without getting hungry! Kellogg's are never leathery or tough or hard to eat—they're just wonderful!

Such a spread for big and little boys and girls—the sweetheart of fine white corn kernels deliciously flavored and deliciously toasted in Kellogg's own way! You can't imagine anything more joyous to eat at any hour.

Kellogg's Corn Flakes are childhood's ideal food! Kiddies can eat as much as they can carry! Every mouthful makes for health, for sleepy-time-stomachs!

Don't just ask for "corn flakes"! You say KELLOGG'S—the original kind in the RED and GREEN package!

Has Gloria Caruso Father's Voice? Mother Thinks So

New York, Oct. 18.—Will Caruso's great vocal powers be transmitted to his little daughter, Gloria?

Mme. Caruso, widow of the great tenor, is inclined to believe that Gloria will inherit her father's gift of song.

"I am told that just as a child may inherit the eyes or other features of a parent—and you can see that Gloria is the image of her father—there is no reason why she should not inherit the physical formation of the throat," said Mme. Caruso in an interview.

"Now perhaps you will think it was the act of an over-fond father, but when Gloria was six months old Signor Caruso took her up in his arms and, carrying her close to a light, examined her open mouth.

"'Look, dear' he exclaimed in delight. 'The formation at the back of the mouth here is like that of my own great arch! And look here—and here.' And so he went on, excitedly declaring that different parts of the child's throat were moulded after the various features that went to produce his own wonderful voice.

"Gloria has inherited the love of music. She will be given every opportunity to develop her abilities."

Mrs. Caruso and Gloria arrived here recently on the Adriatic.

WEEKLY KANSAS CITY STAR QUOTES T. H. THOMPSON

Purchaser of Jake Suetterlin Farm an Exhibitor at the Sni-a-Bar Stock Show

Good schools in Nodaway County seem to be as important a factor in drawing residents to this county as the good agricultural advantages. "Money-making isn't the only thing in life, our boys and girls must be educated to get the most out of life," says T. H. Thompson who recently purchased the Jake Suetterlin farm south of Maryville. The Weekly Kansas City Star has the following about Mr. Thompson, who attended the Sni-a-Bar farms demonstration at Grain Valley, Mo., last week:

T. H. Thompson, who has lived thirty-four years on one farm near Maysville, Mo., a keenly appreciative observer, is selling out at Maysville and moving to a farm he bought recently three miles from Maryville.

"Making money is not the only thing in life," he said. "Our boys and girls must be educated to get the most out of life; so I am moving to Maryville, where they can have advanced schooling."

Incidentally, Mr. Thompson will engage in livestock raising more extensively on the Maryville farm. He already has two purebred Shorthorn bulls, a herd of forty-four Shorthorns and 120 grade cattle.

WHITEFORD SCHOOL HOUSE PACKED FOR FILM SHOW

J. A. Whiteford Back to His Old Community and Thought the Film Idea a Great One.

The Whiteford School house, three miles southeast of Guilford and twenty-five miles from Maryville, was packed to capacity and overflowing last night when "Agriculture in Nodaway County," the Chamber of Commerce film, and the hog worm films of the farm bureau were shown. Following the run of the films the women of the district served all those there with a collection of many kinds of pie, hot weiners and coffee and it made a fine lunch.

J. A. Whiteford, brother of Hugh Whiteford, who was for fifteen years superintendent of schools in St. Joseph and later superintendent of schools at Oklahoma City, Okla., was present at the meeting. He said that he thought the idea that is being carried on in Nodaway County in showing the films as a means of promoting community pride and spirit, is the best one that he has ever heard of. "I believe that the boys and girls are the most important things that a country produces," he said, "and I think that it is the right thing to show them in pictures."

Mr. Whiteford said that he appreciated a great deal the fact that he can be back once more in Missouri. He said that even the apples that are raised here taste better than those that he gets elsewhere.

Mr. Whiteford finds a lot of changes in his old community. The school house of the Whiteford district, in which he attended school, has been purchased by his brother and is used for other purposes. He recalled last night that the late James Todd of Maryville was one of the early teachers in this old building.

George A. Pickens, secretary of the Maryville Chamber of Commerce, made a few remarks at the meeting along the line of boosting for the community and the county.

DEMOCRAT DENIES CONGRESS WORKED

Is Stated That Even G. O. P. Leaders Have Denounced It.

Washington, Oct. 18.—The letter of President Harding to Representative Mondell, praising the work of congress, which was made public, was declared by Chairman Cordell Hull of the Democratic national committee in a statement to be "in effect a plea for the re-election of his Republican do-nothing congress."

"With the exceptions of the Republican members, defeated in the primaries," Mr. Hull said, "practically the entire membership of this congress are candidates for re-election and when President Harding asks the American people to approve this congress, he asks for its re-election.

"'It is befitting to appraise the general results' (of the congress), says President Harding, 'which have been so helpful to American welfare that they will not fail to appeal to the approval of the American people.'

"This is the Harding round-about way of doing what President Wilson did in 1918 in a direct way, when he asked for the election of a Democratic congress to aid him in making a just peace, for which he was criticized and abused by Republican leaders, Republican speakers and the reactionary Republican press.

Lauds Wilson.

"President Wilson's plea was for the continuance of a congress to sustain an administration which had entered upon and was successfully conducting a great war, and which he deemed necessary to the making of a successful and just peace. It came at a time when Republicans in the senate were plotting to disparage him and deprive his administration of the credit for what it had already done and what it planned to do.

"President Harding's plea, on the other hand, in effect asks the American people to condone the faults of a congress already discredited in the eyes of the American people and repudiated and denounced by Republican leaders, including a member of his own cabinet, and the honest and intelligent element of the Republican press.

HOPKINS RAISES QUOTA BY SELLING DOUGHNUTS

Vocational Students at College Report That They Have Raised $50—Graham Also Over Top

That selling doughnuts is a paying proposition was demonstrated in the sale that the women of Hopkins held for the purpose of raising that town's assigned quota of the Nodaway County donation to the Salvation Army relief fund. When things were checked up it was found that the women had $75.75 for the fund and C. E. Wells, chairman of the advisory board, received a check for this amount.

O. O. Wallace gave the use of his oil station office as a kitchen, Frank Traster gave his services as draymen and the Clutter grocery store donated coffee for the crowd of doughnut hungry people.

Those in charge of the "doughnut day" activities were: Mrs. Maurice Wolfers, Mrs. E. V. Jeffers, Mrs. H. A. Dalby, Miss Grace Ross, Mrs. R. P. Landon, Mrs. W. L. Robb, Mrs. Frank Litsch, Mrs. Joseph Andrews, Mrs. Charles Wray, Misses Ruth and Melba Brown, Florien Browning, Charlotte Gray, Edna Nichols, Leota Noles, Helen Moorehead, Helen Dragoo, Bernice Williams, Florien Turner, Grace Twedell, Cleo Dalby.

The vocational students in charge of the solicitation for funds at the State Teachers College report more than $50 in their fund. No complete reports are to be had on the local situation, but those in charge say that prospects are favorable for Maryville to easily raise her quota of $500.

Hopkins and Graham are the only towns to report full quotas to date.

CHANGE IN MARRIAGE VIEWS

Educator Says Emancipation of Women Is Principal Cause of Instability

Dallas, Texas, Oct. 18—Emancipation of women is one of the principal causes of "the instability of modern family life," and is a matter of serious concern, Dr. Comer M. Woodward of Southern Methodist University declared before the Texas Conference of social Welfare here yesterday.

Among other causes cited by Doctor Woodward for what he termed "instability of the family today," were "a decay of the religious views of marriage, the rising standards of living, the late age of marriage among professional men, the increasing knowledge of laws and the laxity of enforcement, and poor or bad marriages."

Lee Strickler, who has been confined to his home since in the summer with rheumatism, was taken this morning to the St. Francis Hospital for treatment.

MANY ARE DEFECTIVE

Only 50 per cent Who Apply for Enlistment in Navy Are Accepted

Few persons realize that almost 50 per cent of those who apply for enlistment in the United States navy are turned down because of physical defects. In the last several months ninety men have applied at the local recruiting station in the federal building, and of this number forty have been rejected. According to C. L. Krauss, chief boatswain's mate, in charge of the station, of this number many have poor vision. One of the tests for the navy makes it necessary for a man to pick out various colored yarns and identify them by colors. This is a stumbling block for many applicants.

However, the navy is on the lookout for recruits. Men from eighteen to thirty-five years of age are accepted, if physically and mentally sound, and acceptance means an education in some line of trade. Members of the navy are entitled to retirement with pay after sixteen years of service.

FORMER MARYVILLE PASTOR STARTS A PRISON CHURCH

Dr. L. O. Bricker of Christian Church Gets A Vision And Carries It To Reality

The "Jerusalem Church" of a new movement in the Kingdom of God has just been launched in the United States Penitentiary in Atlanta, Georgia. It is called "The First Christian Church in Prison." Back of this significant event there lies an interesting story, the bare outlines of which can only be given here.

A little over two years ago, on discovering the vast and tragic need of the 2,500 men confined in the Federal Prison here, L. O. Bricker, pastor of First Christian Church conceived the idea of organizing a commission in which all the religious communions of Atlanta would take their share of responsibility in ministering to the men in prison. As a result of his efforts, the Church's Prison Committee was organized. This is not the place to tell the story of that wonderful organization, and the great things it has accomplished along many lines. One of the six commissions is known as the Religious Commission. A part of the work of this commission is to maintain a Sunday school in the prison, each denomination furnishing its quota of teachers.

Mr. W. M. Jones, a man of striking and unique personality, was appointed by Dr. Bricker to represent the First Christian Church. Other teachers have done well, but the success of Mr. Jones has been phenomenal. He began with a class of six men. It grew steadily through the months, mounting up to 20, to 30, to 50, until he had an attendance of over 160. He naturally dosired to see what he was accomplishing in the inner lives of the men in his class, and a few Sundays ago he invited men to come forward to make the Good Confession. On his invitation, 23 men eagerly stepped forward to confess their faith and to dedicate their lives to Jesus Christ.

A letter from Dr. Bricker to Warden J. E. Dyche, forwarded by him to Washington, brought from the Department of Justice, the unprecedented order that these men be permitted to come out of the prison to be baptized. Without the hearty co-operation and good will of the new warden this could not have been accomplished. Eugene Debs, on being released from this prison wrote a series of articles, describing it as a horrible and cruel place. If that were ever true, there is a new spirit pervading in the huge institution today. An evidence of this is in fact that Warden Dyche sent these men to the church in an open truck, with one guard to show them the way, and was really minded to send no guard at all. We who witnessed the event could see that there was no need of a guard. For these men were guarded from within.

On Wednesday afternoon, September 20, a most beautiful baptismal services was held for these men in the First Christian Church, attended only by the officers of First Church and the chior. After explaining the significance of the baptism they were about to undergo, Dr. Bricker then set before the men a truly Apostolic vision and task, that of banding themselves together in Christian fellowship, and constituting themselves into a New Testament Church of Christ, to be called: "The First Christian Church in Prison." He explained to them how the Apostle Paul had constituted the first Christian Church on the continent of Europe in the prison at Philipi; and he called and commissioned these men to undertake the same kind of Apostolic work.

It is impossible to describe the joyful enthusiasm with which the men responded to the vision. Were I to undertake to tell of the unearthly glory which seemed to fill the church, and which shone upon the faces of the men as they were baptized, I should have to use the language which the New Testament employs in telling of Pentecost, and the opening of the doors of the Church in the house of Cornelius.

Immediately on returning to the prison, the men met together, and following the primitive custom, they chose out from amoung themselves certain of their number to serve the infant church as elders and deacons. These men, the pastor and elders of the First Church will ordain next Sunday morning.

When Mr. Jones, the teacher and leader, went to his class at the prison last Sunday morning, he carried with him a specially printed church roll in a handsome binder, on which appears in beautiful print: "The First Christian Church in Prison." For the first time he had something concrete to present to his men, something to join. And when he again extended the invitation to men to come forward and confess Christ, and join themselves to the church which had been opened in prison, 26 more men immediately responded to the invitation.

As the result of two brief invitations the First Christian Church in Prison, now numbers 49 men. They will soon have 100; then 500; and soon they will have revolutionized the entire life of the prison; then other prisons. And only God, who has so signally honored and blessed this new movement in the Kingdom, knows whereunto this thing will grow.

The church will meet together each Sunday morning at 8 o'clock in the prison chapel with the communion of the Lord's Supper as the center and heart of their worship.

Dr. Bricker will write a special article for the Evangelist in which he will tell the Brotherhood how it can help in this new movement.

torney General. Not one in a hundred knew anything about any of them at the time they voted for them and not one in a thousand knew anything about their fitness or qualifications for the positions they sought. It is not the mass of the people who are clamoring for the right to elect the purely administrative officials, but the machine politicians. A political machine is good for nothing but to elect people to office. The more people there are to be elected, the more use there is for a political machine, and the more use there is for a machine, the more there is in it for the man who controls the machine. As a rule, the political machine is organized and controlled by men who are not office holders or office seekers. Their business is to elect other people to office. But there was a fear that the elective state officers would try to build up a political machine to get themselves re-elected to office and so the provision is made that none of the elective state officials shall be their own successors. I think I shall offer an amendment to prevent their seeking some other state office, else they will be trying to transfer themselves from one office to another.

The report provides for departments of State, Law, Audit and Accounts and Treasury. It provides that the head of the department of State shall be the Secretary of State; the head of the Department of Law shall be the Attorney General; the head of the Department of Audit and Accounts shall be the State Auditor and the head of the Department of Treasury shall the the State Treasurer. All of whom shall be elected by the people. Thus far it will be seen that the present organization is retained. It then provides that there shall be such additional departments, not exceeding eight, as may be provided by law. It is not made mandatory on the Legislature to create any new department but they can, if they see fit, create any number of additional departments not exceeding eight. So the whole number can not exceed twelve.

All of the powers and duties of all of the different state Boards, Bureaus, Commissions etc., are then to be performed by these departments or under their supervision. This will enable the state to do this work without so much lost motion, duplication and over-lapping and, if properly organized and systematized, at an enormous saving in expense. Whether the state administration will be so reorganized and the work so systematized that the state will get the most efficient service out of its employees is a question that does not concern me at this time nor does it concern this Convention. All the new Constitution can do is to provide for the organization and endow the lawmakers with power to effect the reorganization thus provided for. It is for the lawmakers to provide the reorganization machinery and for the Governor to put it into operation. It is not a complete job. It leaves us with five independent departments instead of one but five is better than the large number we now have. With a high class capable legislature and a governor with real organizing ability the executive branch of the government can be reorganized so as to save the state millions of dollars in the future. The people will insist on this being done when they realize the cost of the present wasteful method. To enable the people to get some idea of the real cost of the state government and what the money is being spent for is the most important thing that can be done by this Convention. How we are attempting to solve that problem will be considered later.

Very Truly, M. E. Ford.

NEW INVENTION MAY TRANSMIT NIAGARA WATERPOWER BY RADIO

Albany, Oct. 18—Power generated at Niagra Falls will be picked up and transmitted by radio to San Francisco, where it will turn the wheels of factories, Dr. Irving Langmuir, radio expert of the General Electric Company, predicted in discussing the possibilities that lie in the new electron tube which he has invented.

Trains probably can be operated by electrical energy sent through the aid when the invention is brought to perfection, Dr. Langmuir said.

RED CROSS WILL CONTINUE AS NOW

There Will Be No Changes in Policy or Manner of Working.

Washington, Oct. 18.—The work of the American Red Cross will go forward "along the same lines it has followed in the past," Chairman John Barton Payne declared in a statement in answer to the "many inquiries" being received at national headquarters as a result of the discussions of the charter of the society at the recent annual convention. Mr. Payne said that his platform governing the agency's policies was "one of common sense."

"It is only necessary," he continued, "to have in mind a few fundamental principles; that the American Red Cross is not only a semi-governmental institution, called into being for emergency work, but is required to take action to prevent disaster and disease.

"It is recognized," Chairman Payne said, "that the first duty of every chapter is to the disabled ex-service men and women. In addition to this, there has done, will now, and will continue to be, an active program covering the needs in the home communities."

The Phoenix and Holeproof Hosiery are the best made and are always sold at reasonable prices.

They also handle sweaters, both coat and slipover styles, in contrasting combinations. The colors are chosen tastefully and most any combination one could wish for is found there. The boys' coats in duck, moleskin, and cottonade, blanket lined, are just the thing for rough and warmth.

All of these makes of clothing which I have mentioned, are found in most any color and are sold at reasonable prices.
